U. S. PACIFIC FLEET CARRIES WAR INTO WATERS OF ENEMY

JAVA IN THE SPOTLIGHT

16 Enemy Bombers Destroyed To the West of Gilbert Islands

By Joseph A. Bors
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4—American and United Nations forces on land, sea and air exchanged sledgehammer blows with Axis invaders on the world's battlefronts today as the United States Pacific Fleet carried the war into enemy waters.

While fierce fighting for the possession of strategic Java held the spotlight on one sector, a smashing new victory by the Navy west of the Gilbert Islands in which 16 enemy bombers were destroyed gave evidence of America's "offensive" in that portion of the Pacific.

Operations of task units of the American Pacific Fleet in waters west of the enemy bases on the Gilbert Islands indicated strategy to draw the Japanese navy out in attempts to lessen Nipponese pressure in the Southwest Pacific.

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

General MacArthur Pulls Another Amazing Coup

Washington—The War Department today reported Gen. Douglas MacArthur has pulled another amazing coup—this time sending his tiny air force against a Japanese armada in Subic Bay, sending two large enemy vessels to the bottom and inflicting widespread damage.

In a communique, the Department said that the American-Filipino air force sank one vessel of 10,000 tons, another of 8,000 tons, and, in addition, destroyed two enemy motor launches of 100 tons each.

"Many smaller craft were damaged," the communique said.

"Large fires were started on the docks of Olongapo and Grande Island. These were followed by many heavy explosions among enemy stores."

Subic Bay is northeast of the American lines on Batuan and has been used by the Japanese to move in reinforcements against MacArthur. Olongapo is the former American naval station which was captured by the Japanese early in January. Grande Island is in the entrance to Subic Bay.

While the two large vessels were not identified, it was believed they were either troop transports or supply ships moved in by the Japanese during the past few weeks.

Plan Big Air Offensive Against Nazis

London—Plans for a gigantic air offensive against Nazi Germany with the aid of top-flight dive-bombers from the United States were announced in London today.

"The Americans are going to send us dive-bombers," it was said. "These aircraft, markedly superior to the German Junkers-87, will shortly be available. We intend to resume our bombing offensive against Germany on the largest possible scale at the earliest possible moment."

"Our air staff is convinced that a bomber offensive against Germany is one of the indispensable means of winning the war."

Japan Cripples Forces Protecting Java

London—Japan has crippled the United Nations naval forces protecting Java and now has complete control of the sea area of the Dutch East Indies, an authoritative Dutch source in London said today in sounding a grim warning of the desperate situation in the Southwest Pacific.

The announced loss of two Netherlands cruisers and other United Nations naval craft was a "crippling blow," the spokesman said, as most of the air-dromes surrounding Java already are in Japanese hands and the possibility of reinforcing the island is now "well nigh impossible."

The terrain of Java, the spokesman continued, does not lend itself to defensive action against superior forces. The defense forces include Dutch divisions and a few thousand United Nations troops and are called upon to defend an island three times the size of the Dutch motherland, it was pointed out.

"Japs" Face Determined Counter-Offensive

Batavia—Apparently fully recovered from the smashing blows dealt them at the beachheads but still facing a determined counter-offensive, Japanese troops in Java made "some headway" at various points today as their infiltration fanned out into major action.

United Nations forces still are attacking "with great stubbornness and an offensive spirit," an official communique said. But it could not be denied that enemy advances were being recorded and that the Dutch plan to hurt the invaders "into the sea" was far from fruition.

What the veterinary profession in Bucks and Montgomery county can do to organize an efficiently operated war-time defense program, was discussed at a meeting of the Bucks-Montgomery Counties Veterinary Medical Association, held at Farm School, near Doylestown. The meeting was called at the request of the Pennsylvania State Veterinary Medical Association which is in charge of Colonel Ernest Hogg, of Wilkes-Barre.

During the meeting, Dr. H. W. Turner, of New Hope, was appointed local chairman of defense work to be undertaken by the two-county association. During the next four weeks a complete program of operation will be worked out with state and national headquarters of the veterinary profession, and the program will be fitted in.

RUTH BRYAN OWEN TO SPEAK AT MORRISVILLE

America's First Woman Diplomat To Be Guest of
Woman's Club

ON THURSDAY EVENING

MORRISVILLE, Mar. 4—Ruth Bryan Owen, America's first woman diplomat and an orator of note, will speak at the high school auditorium, Friday night at eight o'clock. Her topic will be "New Horizons for America."

All funds realized by the lecture, which is sponsored by the Morrisville Woman's Club, will be given to Mayor William Burgess' Morrisville Defense Council. General admission and reserved seat tickets are in charge of Mrs. William I. Murphy, 416 North Pennsylvania avenue, phone 7922.

Mrs. Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, grew up in environment of political campaigns and close contact with public affairs. During the first World War she was connected with the American Women's War Relief Fund in London. She was the first woman to represent the "old South" in Congress; the first woman to serve on the Congressional Foreign Affairs Committee; and the first woman to represent the United States at the Interparliamentary Union in London, in 1930. Her appointment as minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary to Denmark gave her the distinction of being America's first woman diplomat.

Flag Upside Down

(By "The Stroller")
Did you see the flag flying in distress this morning in front of the headquarters of a well-known patriotic organization?

Well, it wasn't very long before the flag was changed, but still there were a number of people who saw it, and of course the flag being displayed at such a place in such a manner immediately caused a lot of "wise cracks" and joshing.

"COOTIE" PARTY

The Sunday School Class of Bristol Methodist Church, taught by Mrs. William Mohr, held a "cootie" party Monday evening in the social room of the church. Prizes were awarded. Refreshments of cocoa and cake were served. Mrs. Harold Hunter and Miss Elizabeth Smith were in charge.

RESULTS ALWAYS

Mrs. Herman Spencer is a "booster" for Courier classified advertisements. An advertisement was placed in yesterday's issue of The Bristol Courier, listing goods which the Spencers wished to sell. Instead of the "ad" continuing for three days, as ordered, it was cancelled after the first insertion, as items had been quickly sold. "No matter whether I advertise for goods I wish to purchase, or want to sell, I always get results through The Courier," said Mrs. Spencer today.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

A Good Idea Gone Wrong

Washington, March 3. REVELATION by the Byrd Committee that Mr. James M. Landis, having rid his OGD machine of some—but of the things which brought it into disrepute, has organized in a very brief period a separate—and still growing—press bureau with a yearly pay roll of $124,000, again draws attention to the extraordinary publicity army in Washington, the size and cost of which amounts to a national scandal.

THE fact is that, with one notable exception (the Donovan outfit), the first thing every new government agency does is to establish its publicity department. That is considered basic and once done the disposition is to regard the job as a success. The interesting thing is that the more publicity men there are the worse the publicity. As the quantity goes up the quality goes down. Every time a new press agent goes on the pay roll confusion grows—and the reasons for curtailment increase. Some time ago when the Office of Facts and Figures was created and Mr. MacLeish named as chairman, the hope was that this publicity army, now numbering 3,999 full-time individuals, would be curtailed, co-ordinated and controlled.

NOTED WRITER TO ADDRESS MEMBERS, REAL ESTATE BOARD

Melvin K. Whiteleather, Famous Correspondent, To Be At Dinner Meeting

HELD AT DOYLESTOWN

Has Interesting Story To Tell About Conditions In Europe

A noted foreign correspondent, world traveler and newspaper columnist, Melvin K. Whiteleather, of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, is to address a dinner meeting of the Bucks County Real Estate Board, Wednesday evening, March 11th.

The meeting is to be held in the Fountain House, Doylestown, with the dinner beginning at 6:30.

Melvin K. Whiteleather spent 13 years in Europe, 10 of them as foreign correspondent of the Associated Press. He has roamed about covering conferences, wars and peace talks. For four years he was attached to the Paris Bureau of the Associated Press and from 1934, he was attached to the Berlin Bureau. He has seen the Nazi regime rise and the German Army grow from the remnants bequeathed to it by the Versailles Treaty to the powerful destructive machine that is putting Europe under its wheels and hobnails. He covered the German entry into the Saar Valley, the army's re-occupation of the demilitarized Rhineland, Hitler's invasion of Austria, his double entry in Czechoslovakia and his quick crushing of Poland. He was at the famous Munich peace conference and was the only foreign correspondent to get with the Russian army at any time since the Bolshevik Revolution. He paid a short visit to Poland last fall and sent out dispatches which indicated for the first time that Russia's military forces might not be as strong as the world generally believed. He also was the first foreign correspondent to get into Warsaw after the Polish capital's capitulation.

MCGLYNN BEFORE COURT

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 4—In miscellaneous Bucks county criminal court yesterday, Judge Hiram H. Keller upheld the decision of Justice of the Peace Neal Nolan of Morrisville and a fine of $10 imposed by him on Samuel Boone, of Morrisville.

Boone appealed from a summary conviction before Justice Nolan on a charge of reckless driving in Morrisville when he and Michael Sligko, Morrisville, were involved in an accident at a Morrisville street intersection. Both Boone and Sligko were arrested by Chief of Police Albert Cooper, Morrisville, and Boone appealed.

Leonard Pettit, of Chalfont, appealed from a summary conviction yesterday in which he was charged with hunting wild birds in an illegal manner on August 4, near his home, when the property of the Misses Laura and Irene Faust, neighbors, was damaged by pumpkin shells, alleged to have been fired from Pettit's gun.

After hearing testimony Pettit was fined $25 and costs and the Justice's decision was upheld. Pettit was directed by Judge Keller to pay the fine and costs and in default of such payment he is to serve one day in jail for every dollar of fine imposed. The prison sentence was suspended on condition that the fine and costs be paid in 30 days. Pettit was held in his own recognizance in the sum of $500.

The Misses Faust testified that they were in the yard of their home on August 4 last, when they heard pellets dropping on the roof of the house. They heard a gun fired and it sounded as though it had been fired from the direction of the Pettit home, they said. An investigation disclosed that the Faust home was damaged by the pumpkin shell which penetrated a side wall of the house.

Corporal Peter Greblunas of the Motor Police and Ass't County Detective William L. Stackhouse, investigated the case. Greblunas said that Pettit admitted shooting the day in question and that the shell he fired might have

There is a new plan afoot under which the counter-man will vote with the boss in placing the order for apple pies.

It is being considered for our war industries and would give every worker an opportunity to rap his knuckles for order.

Under the plan we will have increased production of planes, ships and guns just as soon as the committee on each lathe opens under the heading "good of the order."

It is made of dream stuff plus larger doses of aspirin for industry.

It is based on the theory that every worker carries a production manager's baton in his lunch box. It could be a cheese sandwich.

This is the same stuff of which Communism is made and it is suggested that we save democracy before we give it away.

Leslie Helwig Tells of Possibilities of Synthetics

ANDALUSIA, Mar. 4—Leslie Helwig, a member of the Bristol Rotary Club, and who is connected with the Rohm and Haas Chemical Co., Bristol, delivered the address before members of Bensalem Rotary Club at the Red Lion Inn, last evening.

Mr. Helwig spoke for a short time on "Flexiglas"; then told of the possibilities of present discoveries and inventions following the war. He stated that "We must begin to prepare for industries after the war."

The speaker discussed the possibilities in the increased number of synthetics which will naturally be discovered as by-products of present-day research.

L. L. Williams, Sr., introduced the speaker; and the Rev. Arthur F. Gibson, president, occupied the chair during the short business session.

Polyphonic Choir Is To Give Program at Newtown

NEWTOWN, Mar. 4—The Polyphonic Choir of Philadelphia, a non-denominational organization devoted to the study and rendition of fine music, will present a concert in Newtown Methodist Church on Tuesday next at 8:30 p. m.

The choir, under the direction of Bernard R. Mausert, consists of 45 members, who sing with a fine tone quality and display careful training. The choir is regarded as one of the outstanding choral organizations in Philadelphia. A silver offering will be taken.

SCHOOL TEACHERS GET $100 INCREASE IN THEIR SALARIES

Request by Teachers' Ass'n
Was for An Increase of $200

ADDS $6,500 TO BUDGET

Routine Business Transacted at Monthly Meeting of Board

Bristol school teachers were each given a $100 increase in their salaries, last night, in response to a request from the teachers to the school board for an increase of $200.

The Board by granting the increase added $6,500 to the annual cost of teachers' salaries. The request for an increase of $200 in the salary of each teacher was made in the form of a resolution adopted at a meeting of the Bristol Teachers' Association, a copy of which was forwarded to the school board. The teachers cited in their request the increase in the cost of living and asked that the $200 increase be granted without affecting any increases that would ordinarily be given.

The finance committee advised the board that the requested increase of $200 could not be granted without an increase in the tax rate and that even an increase of $100 may possibly cause a deficit at the end of the fiscal year.

Superintendent of schools, Warren P. Snyder reported the purchase of three fire extinguishers and two gallons of fluid for motor fires. The purchase of a strapping pump and shovels were authorized.

Mr. Snyder also presented for the approval of the board some changes in the teaching faculty. The resignation of William Gushard, teacher of social sciences was accepted. He is now engaged in defense industry. Mr. Woolson was elected to fill the position as a temporary employee. Other temporary changes in the faculty were reported as follows: Miss Jane Wilkinson resigned. Miss Catherine Chune will fill this vacancy. Miss Madelyn Kennedy will fill the vacancy created by Leroy Booth entering the military service. Miss Claire Coles will take Miss Kennedy's former position and Miss Christie Apphy will take Miss Coles' position. There will be one teacher less in the Washington street building.

The spring exhibition of work done in the schools will be discontinued for the present year.

S. Bradley Ardrey, president of the Board, and Superintendent Warren P. Snyder reported upon attending a convention of school directors in Harrisburg.

The Tire Rationing Board was granted permission to use a room in the Bath street school building for offices.

The Red Cross was granted the use of the auditorium in the Wood street building for first aid instructors classes from March 9th to 13th in the evening.

The report of David Hertzler, high school principal, was read to the board and it was ordered filed. Mr. Hertzler called attention to the enrollment problem which might present itself with additional families moving into the community.

THE WAR AND THE WILL

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, may be quite right in asserting that the peoples "with the most health, sobriety, training and devotion to the common cause will win the war." The number of excellent qualities he mentions comprises an impressive list. Healthy people, trained for the kind of work that war demands and wholeheartedly concerned with the achievement of victory, are the greatest asset any nation at war can possess.

It is Doctor Wilbur's contention that America's superior facilities for health-building, such as pure water, plenty of nourishing food and medical and sanitary equipment, will not by themselves bring its youngsters to the peak of health unless each individual has the desire to make the most of them.

This calls, he said, for discipline, and "it is up to the educators to convince the young men and women that they can do more to advance the common effort by becoming and staying healthy than they can by any other direct way." He strongly opposed night-clubbish habits and excessive tavern-going.

Perhaps a good case could be made for the fact that whenever a wealthy nation grows too neglectful of discipline, another nation, desirous of extending its realm will seek to acquire the lands of the so-called easy-going race. That is an ever-present peril for residents of countries possessing large resources.

But wherein lies the cause of such events in the rich countries? The word discipline often is used nowadays when nothing more than the old-fashioned term of employing the will is concerned. It has been said frequently that educators in this country paid too much attention to the training of the mind in proportion to the effort that they expended to train the wills of their students. It should have been obvious that mere training of the mind will not of itself develop character.

Somewhere in modern education rests the source of this error. If it were recognized, perhaps the problem of "discipline" would diminish. For all its many evils, this war has brought one contribution—it has made men recognize anew the importance of the will.

AMERICAN QUEENS

America, democracy though it is, has its queens, and no members of royalty were ever accorded more adulation. What would a tomato festival be without its reigning beauty? An apple festival would lose a goodly portion of its charm without an apple-checked miss to reign supreme over its gaiety. And an apple festival would seem less bright without the glowing cheeks and sun-kissed lips of the Orange Queen.

All sorts of festivals animate the American year, and each festival has its queen. It is a wholesome custom, a lusty American tribute to the beauty and vigor of its youth. Almost any sort of ceremony has a central figure around which it may revolve, and a queen is admirably suited to this role. The selection usually is made as the result of some sort of contest, which is a challenge to the ingenuity of maidemoiselles. The ever-present American sense of humor nominates queens of equal beauty for somewhat facetious roles. For now there is a "Wangling Queen." The reading matter accompanying her photo in the papers is rather vague as to her domain, but the queen herself will have the approval of most males.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM SUBURBAN TOWNS

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Dr. Raymond Snyder, of Philadelphia, secretary of the Pennsylvania Veterinary Medical Association, spoke on defense work and what is planned to be done with animals and pets in case of an invasion or other emergency.

A. R. Homer, who conducts a silver fox ranch a short distance north of Sellersville, presented a history of fox breeding before the Sellersville Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Homer was the guest of Claude Butterwick. Other guests included both R. Stout and Dr. Frank Inketter, of Sellersville, and "Sonny" Fargo, the visiting Boy Scout of the week.

Highlights of the talk on fox raising included the story of how some western breeders have been making fabulous sums. Mr. Homer showed a photograph of a check for $300,000, which, he said, was the smallest one they had gotten after being in business several years. He said foxes usually stay mated and produce one litter a year. The young stay right in the den with the parents until they are almost full grown. Around Thanksgiving the fox is prime and ready to be sold.

The breeder said he usually kills the foxes by one of the most humane methods, placing the animal on a trough-like board that knocks them "out" almost instantaneously.

A fox that can produce four or five young a year will be a paying proposition, said Mr. Homer.

William Mengelson, whose wife and two children reside in Applebachsville, has been listed by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey as one of the crew of 41 aboard the R. P. Resor, a tanker belonging to the company, torpedoed off the coast of New Jersey, a few nights ago.

Thirty-nine members of the crew of 41 are believed to have been lost.

According to a member of the family late this morning, no information regarding the safety of Mr. Mengelson has been received. It was stated that Mr. Mengelson, who served as a first mate of the vessel transporting oil from Texas to northern ports along the Atlantic Coast, spent a short time at his home here, last summer. Since then he has been at sea most of the time.

A native of Latvia, Mr. Mengelson resided in this country since he was a young man. Other members of his family, consisting of his wife, Mary, a daughter, Jessie, aged 16, and a son, Emerald, 14, took up residence at Applebachsville about 10 years ago.

tion was to applaud the prospect of a wholesale shrinkage.

IT has not worked out that way, though that is not the fault of Mr. MacLeish. Partly the fault is that the executive order creating the OFF was cloudy. The President was not quite clear as to what he wanted himself, and naturally was unable to make it clear to anyone else. And partly the fault is that Mr. MacLeish has not been given full authority to reorganize, control and direct this immense publicity output. He should have been, but he was not. He has to persuade instead of order. And, while undoubtedly he has made some progress in obtaining "co-operation," the forces expand instead of contracting.

THE result is that those who thought the OFF would channel and control all war information are disappointed. Mr. MacLeish is doing excellent work in other directions, but has been diverted from this. Apparently he has authority over neither army nor navy publicity divisions, which issue their own communiqués without regard to the OFF and uncensored by anyone. Apparently, too, the multitudinous publicity directors of other departments are not restrained either by Mr. MacLeish or by the Committee on War Information which he has set up and on which are representatives of various departments. They may, from time to time, follow the advice of this committee, but they do not consider themselves under it or under Mr. MacLeish, and the stream of bumble puppy propaganda and misinformation still flows as fully and freely as ever. An example—in the past month the WPB press section alone has issued 556 separate press releases, not six of which were worth releasing.

THE fact is that, under direction of the President, Mr. MacLeish has expanded into other fields where he functions usefully, but is kept so busy that, even had he the authority, he would not have the time to straighten out the publicity mess. For example, he has had thrust upon him the delicate job of "clearing" the speeches of Cabinet members, some of which badly need clearing. In addition, his organization has developed into a domestic propaganda machine, chiefly concerned with national morale. In addition, he has his regular job of Librarian of Congress and his extracurricular work as one of the President's ghost writers—and an excellent one he is, too.

CONSIDERING all these activities, the able and attractive Mr. MacLeish has his hands very full, indeed, with as little time as he has authority to co-ordinate or curtail those numerous, costly, unruly and steadily increasing publicity boys, who do so badly need co-ordination and curtailment. Certainly, they will not be co-ordinated or curtailed by Mr. Lowell Mellett and his expanding and expensive OGR. Rather, his plan is to add to their number. A few days ago it was disclosed that the OEM, now under WPB, had augmented the great Capital publicity machine by establishing twenty-nine regional press bureaus in as many different cities, each headed by $4,800-a-year newspapermen, all engaged in turning out press releases, nine tenths of which duplicate the releases already turned out in Washington and none of which is necessary.

THE cost of this latest and silliest expansion has not been estimated—but whatever its cost it isn't worth it. It is the kind of thing that makes the citizens swear and turns cheerful taxpayers and bond buyers into reluctant ones. No better way of promoting morale could be devised than the drastic reduction of this whole publicity racket, because racket it unquestionably is. It is a pity Mr. MacLeish cannot tackle the job. While he and Mr. Mellett are taking in territory for which they were not originally booked, the publicity forces grow in size and cost, their product increases in volume and inaccuracy and the marksmanship of the whole atmosphere thickens. The publicity division of one department is now of such size that it has been suggested, semi-seriously, that a publicity division might well be established for the publicity division.

MATA HARI'S Daughter

By MAURICE DEKOBRA and LEVLA GEORGIE

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

Knuckles rapped softly on the bedroom door. It was Walker, the housekeeper. "Lieutenant Malden calling," she whispered hoarsely.

Naturally a simple, wholesome soul, the housekeeper had become ostentatiously stealthy since Kenley's murder. It was now her firm conviction that virtually every caller was a Fifth Columnist in disguise.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

O Thou Who art eternal in the Heavens, we come unto Thee this day, unable to grasp the true significance of Thine omnipresence. It is beyond our comprehension to visualize One Who is at the same time present at the rising of the sun and the setting of the same. It is beyond our ability to see One Who is comforting the bleeding and dying on the battlefield of life and at the same time standing at the side of the folks at home. Yet we know it is so, and we rejoice in its truth, praying that we shall never lose that sense of His nearness to us. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Dick Foran, who is featured with Martha Raye, Carol Bruce and William Gargan in the Abbott and Costello comedy sensation, "Keep 'Em Flying," coming today to the Bristol Theatre, is trading his Arabian steed for an airplane. His decision was reached during filming of the aviation feature, in which he portrays a stunt pilot who enrolls in the Army as a flying cadet.

Most of "Keep 'Em Flying" was photographed at Cal-Aero Academy, Ontario, Cal., one of 39 privately-operated aviation schools now under contract to the War Department.

What's the Answer?

When was the first automobile made?

ANSWER: Credit for the first "road wagon" propelled by its own engine is generally given to Nicholas Cugnot, a Frenchman, who about 1770 built a three-wheeled carriage, with a cumbersome steam power plant operating on the single front wheel.

Where can you find a handy list of the automobile repairers in your vicinity?

ANSWER: You'll find your local AUTOMOBILE REPAIRERS—as well as the SERVICE STATIONS, CHIROPRACTORS, JUNK DEALERS, UPHOLSTERERS, and many other services—conveniently listed in the Yellow Pages of your telephone directory.

You'll save time these busy days if you look in the Yellow Pages when you want to know "where to buy it" or who will do the job.

FALLSINGTON SHOOT FOR STATE PLAYOFF GAMES WITH WIN

Falcons Must Sweep Aside Bensalem in Title Fray Here

IN BRISTOL'S "GYM"

Fallsington Given Pre-Game Nod Due To Its Shining Record

By Jack Gill

Fallsington high school, champions of the "Big Three," and Bensalem's Owls, rulers of the "Little Three," collide this evening in the Bristol high school gymnasium for the championship of lower Bucks county. The greatest honor at stake tonight is the right to represent the district in the state-wide tournament.

These two teams met once before this season. The result was a 71 to 29 triumph for Fallsington. Since that time both squads have improved immensely and just how far Bensalem has come will be seen before many minutes of battle transpire.

According to Woody Wetherhold, Bensalem coach, both he and the Owls won't soon forget that shellacking. The students from down along the Pike naturally aren't blowing off as to their ability to rise in vengeance and wipe out the sting of the beating. There must be a difference between the two teams. But the Owls are "heated" up over the affair psychologically and they won't go down without a fight tonight.

Jim Doheny, veteran of many a Fallsington campaign, eyes a shot in the P. I. A. A. playoff tournament as does his boys. But Doheny, a keen court analyst all these years, realizes that he is probably doing more worrying over Bensalem than his players. And that is a bad sign denoting over-confidence.

Fallsington has indeed been impressive in district play this winter. The only defeats suffered were from Trenton High, New Jersey Deaf, Bordentown Military Institute and Bristol. The Falcons have been wrecking havoc in New Jersey circles week after week. At times, they are capable of some of the sharpest basketball play ever seen in sectional schoolboy ranks.

Fallsington will probably encounter more trouble in local play than it will in the coming tourney, providing they whip Bensalem. Each man on the squad is known by his opponent to be a deadly set shot artist, particularly Art "Lil Abner" Driscoll and Al Monti. For that reason, they are pressed nearly beyond human resistance and their shots are few and far between.

It is the consensus of many that if the Falcons take Bensalem this evening and can creep into the first round of the tournament at Abington against Yeadon unnoticed and unheralded, they might pull one of the surprise stunts of the season. Because if either of the two boys can get set, Fallsington can "go to town."

Frank Thropp, the only six-foot boy on a relatively small team, Johnny Mansmann, and Joe Napoli, smooth ball-handling back-court star, will start for the Orange and Black.

Bensalem, who against the same ball club late last December wished that they were "Deep in the Heart of Texas," will be pulling their hearts out for a better showing and indications point to just that. Len Ejdys and George Patterson will probably start up front. Mossbrook and Lamb will fill the guard slots, and Pete Everett is listed for action at center. Deans and Hutton will not be hanging around just for the show, either.

As some locker room sharp uttered the other evening, after listening to P. I. A. A. conversation, "What's spot for an upset?" But it's hard to upset the department of facts and figures, which, in this case, holler out loud.

PICKING UP NEWS ON TRIP THRU LOCAL SPORTLAND

By Jack Gill

Some "to whom it may concern" stuff about sports: Mike Derrick, who mixes teaching at Yardley, selling hot dogs from his stand along the Jersey side of the Delaware and basketball officiating into a hectic life, handled the Bristol-Fallsington championship scrap with Walters. Derrick has seen action this winter in the Suburban loop and improves as the years roll onward. . . . Bensalem High School is preparing for its annual gym exhibition that will be presented on March 19th, 20th, 23rd and 24th. . . . Head Coach Clarence Bartholomew plans to play a Red and Gray basketball game this week and plans an early start in baseball and track. . . . For the first time in many years, the Cardinals fostered competitive freshman basketball to stimulate interest in the lower grades.

The championship game to decide the supremacy of the Lower Bucks County scholastic league will be played in Bristol high school's gymnasium, tonight. Bensalem figures that its team is being vastly under-rated by Fallsington. The Falcons, still reminiscent of the 76 points they rolled up on the Owls in an early season test, probably regard them lightly. All of which has made Bensalem's coach, Woody Wetherhold, as well as his boys, fighting mad. Still, Fallsington possesses a very decided edge and should triumph easily.

Nobody probably cares, but the best court performers of the year in our book were the following: Holzman,

C. C. N. Y.; Beinstein, Penn; Busk, Navy; Doll, Colorado; Munroe, Dartmouth; Senesky, St. Joe's; Snyder, Temple; Shaddock, Syracuse, and Kinney, of Rice. Best game—Dartmouth-Penn. Best all-round show—Bill Holzman, of C. C. N. Y.

The Langhorne Rod and Gun Club has been active in competitive rifle meets of late and is a member of the National Rifle Association. This spring the organization plans to open its range to the public and offer instruction to all parties interested. The club will particularly try to bring in the young high school students. Army officials have expressed surprise at the ignorance shown in selective service ranks in the proper handling of small arms. Rifle work is also an important part of civilian defense.

Steve Juenger, who coached at Bristol a few years ago, has been playing a steady role in the ranks of the Trenton American League basketball team, whose mid-season drive set the loop afire. With the addition of Zubic, Goukas and Juenger, the Tigers started to click. . . . Jack Wallaesa, whom we watched many a night at Trenton as a shortstop for Wilmington, is down south with Connie Mack's Athletics. . . . He's a big, raw-boned Polish boy with worlds of opportunity ahead in organized ball. . . . But he is still a mile short of major league ability. . . . Al Horwitz, former Ledger baseball writer, is now publicity director of the A's. . . . Dave Mercer, former George School basketball and hurdle star, is seeing reserve court action at Penn and will be a varsity hurdler this spring. . . . Matt Biedka, former Langhorne star who pitched Middletown to surprise wins over Rohm & Haas last year, and Rock Reed, another former Redskin ace and a later Pennington Prep griddle, have joined the Marines. . . . The Bristol Basketball League, which has weathered some tough financial sledding this year, deserves the support of fans in the championship playoff skirmishes.

BENSALEM MATMEN UPSET LANSDALE

By Jack Gill

Coach Mel Mack's Bensalem grappling team atoned for last week's defeat at Lansdale by turning the tables on the visiting outfit in a match last night at Cornwells Heights. The Owls captured eight of the thirteen matches to win by a 30 to 23 tally.

Arnold Stackhouse, flashy sophomore competing for his first year in varsity ranks, won his fifth straight match last night in decisive fashion. The 112 pounder pinned Corelene in 41 seconds. Stackhouse is undefeated this year.

In the upset of the evening, Johnny Dean took care of Jim Lightcap to avenge last week's defeat. Dave Reed, Reef, Fusaro, Earl Silcox, Geiges and W. Reed were other Bensalem winners. Better success in the lighter matches aided the Owls in surprising their conquerors of last week.

Summary:
85-lb.—Paulick, Lansdale, dropped Murphy, Bensalem.
95-lb.—Nelson, Lansdale, pinned Reedman, Bensalem.
95-lb.—Cooper, Lansdale, decided Wetzel, Bensalem.
105-lb.—D. Reed, Bensalem, decided Colher, Lansdale.
112-lb.—Stackhouse, Bensalem, pinned Corelene, Lansdale.
112-lb.—Wright, Lansdale, pinned Casperaz, Bensalem.
121-lb.—Reef, Bensalem, decided Barcklay, Lansdale.
127-lb.—Flamin, Lansdale, pinned Potts, Bensalem.
127-lb.—Fusaro, Bensalem, decided Polidaro, Lansdale.
135-lb.—E. Silcox, Bensalem, pinned Elbert, Lansdale.
135-lb.—Geiges, Bensalem, pinned Becker, Lansdale.
145-lb.—Dean, Bensalem, decided Lightcap, Lansdale.
154-lb.—Reed, Bensalem, decided Pharr, Lansdale.

U. S. Pacific Fleet Carries War Into Waters of Enemy

The Navy's latest communique disclosing the successful battle in which U. S. cruisers, destroyers and an aircraft carrier engaged, gave the American people the first news that the fleet is steadily operating farther west in the Pacific. The latest victory took place more than 2,000 miles southwest of Hawaii. None of the American surface ships were damaged.

The American task units, invading Japanese-dominated waters beat off an attack of 18 Nippon bombers, shooting down all but two of the enemy planes. Two American planes were shot down, one of the pilots was lost but the other was rescued. One United States flier, Lt. Edward H. O'Hare, brought down six of the attacking Japanese planes, the communique disclosed.

Only three of the enemy planes reached a point where they could point bombs toward the plane carrier. The others were shot into the water.

The Navy's communique revealing the latest American victory, said:

"In the course of recent naval operations west of the Gilbert Islands a task force of the Pacific fleet consisting of an aircraft carrier, cruisers and destroyers, was attacked by 18 heavy bombers of the enemy operating in two groups of nine each.

"These attacks occurred in the late afternoon and were timed about one-half hour apart. . . . Only three enemy planes of the first formation reached their bomb release point over the aircraft carrier. . . . The leading bomber of this group attempted a crash landing on the carrier and was shot down by heavy close range anti-aircraft fire when barely 100 yards from its objective."

This indicated a "suicidal" attack by one of the Rising Sun pilots. The communique said that only five bombers of the enemy formation reached the bomb release point in the second attack.

Meanwhile the battle for Java hinged on the ability of the combined defenders to wipe out as many invaders as possible while preventing adequate enemy reinforcements from reaching the beleaguered island.

In view of Japan's great numerical and naval superiority, military men found some comfort in the fact that United Nations forces still are striking back and delaying the Nipponese invasion timetable while piling up an impressive list of enemy casualties.

American fighting men in Java appeared to be using the same strategy—an offensive defense—that has helped Gen. Douglas MacArthur's outnumbered army stall the Japanese in the Philippines.

Wary Japanese on Bataan Peninsula have refrained for weeks from frontal attacks against MacArthur's forces, apparently because of heavy losses they have suffered in such onslaughts previously.

There has been virtually no land fighting in the Manila area since MacArthur's American-Filipino warriors launched their recent surprise counter-offensive in which they gained and held one-half to five miles of front-line territory across Bataan.

Have You Given To The Red Cross Fund?

today by the Chapter headquarters in Philadelphia.

The program is in charge of the Red Cross Disaster Preparedness and Relief Committee, of which Ralph T. Senter, president of the Philadelphia Transportation Company, is chairman. Immediately disaster strikes, Mr. Senter, Mr. Newhall or Chapter headquarters will be notified and the plan, based on the long experience of the Red Cross, will go into action.

The first step in coping with the situation will be a message to National headquarters giving information like the following:

"It is estimated that 50 people have been killed, 1,000 injured, 400 seriously injured, 1,000 families made homeless, 4,000 people homeless, 300 homes destroyed, 2,500 homes damaged, 4,000 families suffering loss of which number 1,200 were minor property damages, 2,500 applied to Red Cross for aid."

Relief headquarters identified by Red Cross flags and emblems will be opened. Prompt and adequate emergency relief will be supplied, with each sub-committee chairman assuming full responsibility for the various tasks.

Local and other officials will be notified so that they can take whatever steps fall within their functions. Newspapers, press associations and radio stations will be notified that the Red Cross is in charge of relief work and will be informed of the relief measures.

Proper relationships will be set up at once with public and private relief agencies. Welfare inquiry and information services will be established. A quick survey will be made of the devastated area to determine the scope of relief needs and every individual or family applying for relief will be registered.

The Red Cross is prepared to assume at once functions that will supplement the work of governmental or other agencies. Among the tasks the Red Cross is prepared to cope with are:

Supplying emergency necessities of life, issuing warnings, voluntary evacuation, rescue work, medical care and food, clothing and shelter supply.

Government and other agencies, meantime, will be expected to attend to maintenance of law and order, fire protection, water supply, biologicals, quarantine, care of the dead, enforced evacuation, maintenance of public institutions and control of the sale of liquor.

Collateral tasks to be performed by the Red Cross include: Survey of family losses, maintenance of families, transportation of refugees and supplies, communication, registration and welfare inquiries, rehabilitation of families, building and repair of homes, household furnishings, medical aid, hospitalization, nursing, farm supplies, livestock and equipment, and occupational training, equipment and supplies.

Appointment of the following new vice-chairmen of the Disaster Committee was announced recently: Henry B. Bryans, Ralph H. Knode, Edward B. Leisenring, Joseph R. Rollins and J. Howard Pew. The latter was formerly chairman of the committee.

Other new appointments include R. C. Morse, chairman of the sub-committee on Transportation, and the following vice-chairmen of sub-committees: Survey, H. E. Ehlers; Rescue, D. N. Tompkins; Shelter, A. F. Davis; Joseph G. Barth, R. B. Duncan, Frank Virelso and Ray Cunningham; Food, M. L. Fritzsche; Transportation, E. T. Corry, and Public Information, J. H. Briel.

Two-Day Conference At National Farm School

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 4.—The expansion of co-operative marketing as a vital cog in war-time food distribution in Pennsylvania will be the general theme of a two-day conference to be held March 5th and 6th at the National Farm School, Doylestown.

Agricultural officials, farm organization leaders, growers and chain store distributors, gathering at the invitation of Dr. H. E. Allen, Farm School president, will focus attention particularly on direct farm-to-store delivery. About 50 members of the school's senior class will attend the sessions.

The conference officially has been designated as a "Symposium on Co-operative Marketing and a War Clinic on Repair and Adjustment of Farm Machinery." Several hundred from the eastern half of Pennsylvania are expected to attend.

The first morning session will be devoted to "The Outlook for American Agriculture During and After the War." Scheduled speakers include Roland N. Benjamin, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, speaking for co-operative organizations; Earl R. French, national marketing director for the Atlantic Commission Company, buying affiliate of the Great A. & P. Tea Company, speaking for distributors, and F. C. Fetteroli, Chief of Agricultural Education in Pennsylvania, speaking for education.

A commodity forum, with discussions centering on apples, peaches, eggs, milk, potatoes, vegetables and other crops, will be held the second morning. Afternoon sessions both days will center on repair and adjustment of farm machinery, with talks and demonstrations scheduled by machinery experts.

"Cat Burglar" Gets 2- to 5-Year Jail Term and Felix Krzyzanowski, 19, of 1906 North Front street, Phila., who pleaded guilty to robbing several places with Carr, was sentenced to serve three months to five years in the county prison.

The crimes committed by the two started Nov. 20, 1941, and continued until Jan. 23 this year, in Bucks county. Carr was arrested on three previous occasions. Krzyzanowski met Carr at a block party in Philadelphia two years ago, and he knew that Carr had been in a reformatory. Carr was named the "cat burglar" by Philadelphia and other police for he had the reputation of stealing or burglarizing a house while people were at home.

"Which side of this war are you on, Japan's or our's?" Judge Boyer asked Carr. "I am an American," answered Carr.

"No, you are not," Judge Boyer replied. "Don't flatter yourself. Anyone who steals property or does anything destructive against this country while we are at war with the Axis Powers is not a good American," Judge Boyer warned.

Krzyzanowski sat in the car while Carr stole money, jewelry and other valuables in houses that he robbed. He very seldom got a "cut" of the loot. Krzyzanowski told the Court.

Clifford Gamany, 23, Bethlehem Negro, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Boyer to entering the home of Jacob Schmidt, near Ottsville, on the night of Feb. 9. He was chased before he could steal anything. He was sentenced to serve four months to two years in the county prison. Gamany told Judge Boyer that he tried to get into the Schmidt home "just to get warm."

Numerous Cases Are Heard at Court Session been a pumpkin shell. Pettit denied on the stand that he had told police what they said he had.

"We believe the officer's testimony in this case," Judge Keller remarked. "You violated a number of laws that day but you were only charged with two," the court added. "Your explanation is rather weak."

Everitt Robinson, Negro, of Bristol, was committed to the county prison for 30 days for contempt of court when Probation Officer Horace E. Gwinner informed Judge Keller that Robinson had made no effort to pay up on a support order for his wife.

"You are $100 in arrears right now and you won't get out until you can prove that the money will be paid," the court said to Robinson.

Stanley Gabrick, Phila., sentenced some time ago on a gambling charge in connection with a numbers racket, was granted a parole yesterday by Judge Keller at the expiration of a minimum sentence. Gabrick's fine and costs had been paid.

"I guess you realize by this time that you were in Bucks county and that no political influence can get you out of jail before your time has expired," Judge Keller remarked to Gabrick, who nodded in the affirmative and thanked the court for the parole.

Jerome Thomas, 19, Rich Hill, was granted a parole yesterday by Judge Keller. He served four months, a minimum sentence imposed for malicious mischief. Thomas was on parole when the last offense was committed in a Perkies park where property was destroyed by a group of boys.

Lyle M. Flaisig, of Trenton, former resident of Canton, O., was granted a parole yesterday by Judge Keller after he had served a minimum sentence for driving while drunk. A detainer against Flaisig from the Trenton authorities will be served on him at the county prison here tomorrow.

Delinquent husbands who fail to support their wives and children and seek deferment from their draft boards on grounds they have a family to support, were given a verbal jolt and warning by Judge Keller yesterday.

Either pay up or get into the United States Army or Navy, is the substance of the Court's ruling in the future.

Lawrence McGlynn, Bristol, who has a wife and four children, is more than $800 in arrears on a support order. He came before Judge Keller for an accounting yesterday. Probation Officer Gwinner informed the Court that McGlynn had not tried to abide by the court order made some time ago and that he had been placed in Class 3-A by his draft board.

Judge Keller directed that the case be continued until next Monday pending further investigation and that unless McGlynn can pay up the court will advise the draft board to change his classification to 1-A.
